PRESENTS

PARENT WORKSHOP

WITH DR. CHAR WILSON

Dr. Char Wilson is an organizational psychologist who works with leaders and organizations around the world to cultivate greater courage for drastically changing times. She is also an IPA Middle school parent.

We all agree that VALUES matter, but how do we help our children embody their values when so much noise competes for their attention?

Please join us as Dr. Wilson guides us in an exercise to deepen awareness of how values shape family relationships and well-being. Prentis Hempill shares, "The habits that become embodied in us are the habits that we practice most often. And whether we are aware of it or not, we are always practicing something."

By joining the conversation you will gain

- understanding of risks when values are left unclear,
- an engaging process for values identification,
- tips to bring values alive at home and beyond.
